A. T. WATERHOUSE'S

This is the season of the year most dreaded by us, it is the season of stock-taking. Stock-taking with us is what spring house-cleaning is to the housekeepers, something to be dreaded. The public are the ones who generally derive the most benefits from stock-taking for the reason that we generally find odd pieces of Crockery, Glassware, etc., on which we are willing to sacrifice our profit to dispose of than keep in stock. Wait until we are through taking stock and we will make you an announcement in detail.

PLAN FOR $5,500 HOUSE.

Suitable For a Narrow Lot and First Class In Every Respect.

(Copyright, 1908, by George F. Baker, 25 Park Place, New York.)

Now is the time to build. In the winter you can get your work done cheaper. The contractors are always more anxious to secure your work. Labor is almost always cheaper in the winter than in the summer and with careful management your house will be just as good as if it were built in the warmer season. The only trouble you might experience would be the frost, which is very apt to get into the foundation in freezing weather. But if carefully covered and looked after you can always overcome this difficulty. In the early spring is also a good time for building operations, for you can get winter prices, and the house will have nothing to fear from the weather.

Many people imagine that they are obliged to strike a Klondike before they have capital enough to build a home. This is a most erroneous idea, a sad mistake made in many lives. A great many men pay regularly every month $30 to $50 in rent, and what have they to show for it? Nothing, absolutely nothing. They are just as poor at the end of ten years of rent paying as they were when they started.

FIRST FLOOR PLAN.

These men, we may safely say, were extremely foolish. Why not, in paying this $30 or $50 a month, own your house at a certain later period? Would it not pay you to stint yourself a little and put on an extra $5 or $10 a month? Then you would have something to look forward to, something that you would take an interest in. You cannot take an interest in a building that is not your own, and at the end of several years you would own your house and lot free and clear. Then you would have a substantial legacy to leave your family, because you cannot live forever, and while you do live you should take care of the future by using your income to the best possible advantage, and that is not by paying an exorbitant rent.

This building was erected for a gentleman about ten miles from New York. It is a two-story frame residence. It can be built on a 50 foot front lot. The front is 24 feet; depth of building, 40 feet; cellar,

SECOND FLOOR PLAN.

8 feet; first floor, 9 feet 6 inches; second story, 9 feet high; frame is sheathed and papered; first story clapboard finished; second story and roof shingled. This house was built for the special use of a doctor, giving him an office room for consultations, his general office being located elsewhere. Open fireplaces are located in the dining room, sitting room and two chambers. The first and second floors are decorated, finished floors of yellow pine; cellar, building heated by hot air furnace located in the cellar; plumbed throughout with all sewer and water connections; three coats of paint on exterior; shingles stained. Cost to build, including all, $5,500. This is a very good plan of house for a street closely built up, and especially so for a site having an extended view from the rear.
